

LOUISVILLE DAILY COURIER.

VOLUME 32.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY. SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 18, 1861.

NUMBER 121.

LOUISVILLE, May 18, 1861.
The undersigned respectfully recommends his Restaurant to his friends and the public in general. It will constantly keep on hand the best qualities of Ice Creams, Sherbets, Roman Pies, and all other delicacies of the season in the restaurant line, which he is ready to serve in both the Ladies' Saloon and the Gentlemen's Restaurant.

P. S.—The Ladies' Entrance is through the Confectionary Store.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT

AT PARNY'S RESTAURANT.

CORNER OF

THIRD AND JEFFERSON STS.

THREE DRAWS, FROM 12 TO 4

OCLOCK, AT 50 CENTS A PERSON.

COAL! COAL!

FOR SALE, at all times, by the barge and at

PITTSBURG COAL, also, BEECH BOTTOM

COAL at much lower rates.

W. KELLOGG, Agent.

100 Broad Street, corner of Main.

S. B. M'GILL,

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in and

Importer of

CIGARS, TOBACCO, SNUFF,

PIPE, &c.

600 Broad Street, between 4 and 4 Fourth.

(Corner Buildings)

A LARGE assortment of the best brands of CIGARS AND TOBACCO kept constantly on hand for sale.

JOHN F. PEARCE, Proprietor.

Official.

LIST OF LETTERS

2 MAUNING in the Louisville Postings, an advertisements for which I will be sent to the Department of War, is intended to the Louisville Courier, to be had by our foreign correspondents of any kind. And it further enacted, That the commissary of any town or village where said newspaper is published in the newspaper, which being published weekly, or often, shall have the largest circulation, to be decided by the postmaster at such time Postage Law passed March 2d, 1861.

LADIES' LIST.

ALLEN Mrs Frank P. Lamb Mrs H.

PAULTON Mrs P. H. Lamb Mrs Catherine

Deale Mrs Emily Paul Mrs. T.

Brannan Mrs. Mrs. Emma Paul Mrs. Isabella P.

Bratt Mrs. Mrs. Paul Mrs. Jane

Barrett Mrs. Mrs. Margaret Paul Mrs. Mary

Brown Mrs. Mrs. Margaret Paul Mrs. Margaret

Carroll Mrs. Mrs. Margaret Paul Mrs. Margaret

Conrad Mrs. Mrs. Margaret Paul Mrs. Margaret

Crane Mrs. Mrs. Margaret Paul Mrs. Margaret

Deane Mrs. Mrs. Margaret Paul Mrs. Margaret

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 18.

The Reward—The Administration and its Soldiers.

The Administration in Washington having usurped the power and declared war against the States of the Southern Confederacy, proceeded to the exercise of other powers confided by the Constitution solely to the Congress, and raised arms to prosecute the unhappy conflict it had entered upon.

One hundred and fifty thousand men from the Northern States have responded to the call for volunteers to overrun and subjugate the South.

They have been mustered into the service of the Government, made to take oaths and assume obligations unknown to the Constitution or the laws, and put under the command of the favorites of the unprincipled and reckless and desperate politicians who have the control of such matters.

Hail uniformed, less than half equipped, indifferently armed, they have been put into camps in their respective States or marched to distant localities.

An extract published by us a few days ago from high Republican authority in Philadelphia, showed the material of which this army is composed, the writer unfitness of its commanders, the wretched condition of the Commissary's department, and want of supplies, the privations and sufferings of which these troops to Northern fanaticism would be subjected.

There is a camp of these Northern soldiers near Cincinnati.

Its management, and the condition of the men in it, are unquestionably better than in other places more remote from the wealth, convenience, and opportunities of home.

The complaints of the Cincinnati newspapers show us, that even there, in sight of the houses they left, and with shudders of awe in the hands of the authorities, the men have suffered privations which no human power of endurance can long bear.

What is the condition of those who have left their homes and joined this army of subjugation and invasion who are in camp elsewhere?

Those who have a disposition to help the Administration overthrow the Constitution, and subvert the Government by enlisting in the army he has so unconstitutionally and illegally put in the world, would do well to think of the way the troops of the Government are treated by those having the control of them.

The following from the Cincinnati Times will show the condition of Camp Dennison:

With hundreds disabled from exposure and privation, and scores daily being added to the sick, list from the same cause, the hospital arrangements atrocious, brutal, and a shame to our professions of civilization; and the Government, careless and indifferent to the fate of the sufferers, the men who responded with so much alacrity to the call of the Administration, to aid in the subjugation and subversion of the South, have been left to their fate.

A portion of the people of the Border Slave State alone seem incapable of offering resistance or effective protest even against usurpation so wanton and conduct so despicable.

One thing more—It is not a fact that the chief proprietor of the Courier, which hints about the want of reason or influence over the paroxysms of the Administration, dishonestly held, under the Louisville Administration, one of the two last offices in the country, the enormous thereof, until within the last three or four days—Louisville Journal.

It is possible the Journal could tell why the urgent and repeated requests of "the chief proprietor of the Courier" to be relieved from the discharge of the duties of the office of Surveyor of Customs have been disregarded by the present Administration.

Until his successor shall qualify and enter upon the discharge of the duties of the office, Mr. HALEMAN must, much against his wills, continue to perform them, or, if necessary close the office to the serious inconvenience and injury of the business of Louisville.

Here is what the Times has to say of "THE INSANE CONDITION OF THE HOSPITAL AT CAMP DENNISON":

WE CALLED ATTENTION THE OTHER DAY TO THE INSANE CONDITION OF THE HOSPITAL AT CAMP DENNISON. We regret to inform you that there has been no improvement—in fact, the hospital is in worse condition now than when we last left it. The before spoken of, who had offered, under any reasonable arrangement, to take charge of the nursing department, visited the camp, and found it in a deplorable condition. They took with them such articles as had been donated by our citizens, but which were not fourteenth camp. The hospital is now in a condition when it is difficult to say whether the patients are confined within the walls of the hospital, or whether they are scattered about the camp.

Editor Louisville Courier. May 16th, 1861.

Editor Louisville Courier.

River Intelligence.

LOUISVILLE.
SATURDAY MORNING.....MAY 18.
BOATS LEAVING TO-DAY.
For Particulars see Steamboat Advertisements.

THE INGRAPH No. 3, Cincinnati,
G. R. PATTON, Master,
DOA & Sander, Ky. river.

ARRIVALS, May 17.
Superior, Minn. John Raine, N.C.
G. Lloyd, Waukesha.
DEPARTURES.
Superior, Minn. Eugene, Henderson.

The River was falling slowly yesterday, with sand nine feet water in the canal, by the mark, in the evening, on the falls, there were six feet sand boat water, the river was falling six feet below the head of the falls in the previous 24 hours. The weather continues dry and pleasant, though rather cool yesterday.

At 12 m. the river had fallen two feet, but at Pittsburgh, it was slowly rising, with six feet nine inches water in the channel.

The river was slightly falling yesterday, though still at high tide. The St. Louis Republicans of Thursday, has the following river news.

The Missouri river is rising slowly. The swell in the 24 hours ending at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, amounted to seven inches, and is now falling at the rate of one inch per hour.

The river is falling slowly, though rather cool yesterday.

The Upper Mississippi continues to rise slowly.

The Missouri river is rising at the mouth, and very high from Jefferson City down.

The weather continues fair and cool.

Missouri river is rising slowly, though speaking of perpetual danger, and ought in the vicinity of Laclede.

The compression of the commerce of St. Louis, at this period, is a terrible blow, which must result disastrously to the city and State. A day of reckoning must be near.

Our trade and commerce does not suffer as severely as that of St. Louis, owing to the fact that the season here of river trade is not so early as that of St. Louis. It had just commenced.

We understand that the B. J. Adams, Capt. Bickey, is again to take the track; she is advertised for on May 18, next.

The Demarest, Capt. Robinson, is coming round from St. Louis, and is expected to round the Lower Mississippi.

The Kentucky river is not yet blockaded by foreign mercenaries, and the light-voiced Dove, Capt. Sam Saunders, is advertised for Forts, Wadsworth, Greenup, and Corbin, this season.

The steamer for the East to-day.

The steamer for the West to-day.